

NAVY WEEKEND

OSTS 2018

Stamford Yacht Club is host to
U.S. Naval Academy
Offshore Sail Training Squadron

Saturday, June 16th, 2018
12:00 - 2:00 p.m.

Come meet the midshipmen of the U.S. Naval Academy at the Stamford Yacht Club. A special time is set aside for local area high school students, U.S. Naval Sea Cadets, Naval Junior ROTC, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and others to meet the midshipmen and learn more about the academy, service to our country and preparation for college. Please plan to arrive before 12:00 pm to attend a panel discussion. Following you may visit the sailboats at the dock. Please bring a copy of this flyer to the Stamford Yacht Club for admission. For more information contact Alan Gerard, pagerard@mac.com, 203-918-0329. Guest parking available across from the club entrance. See map on page 2.

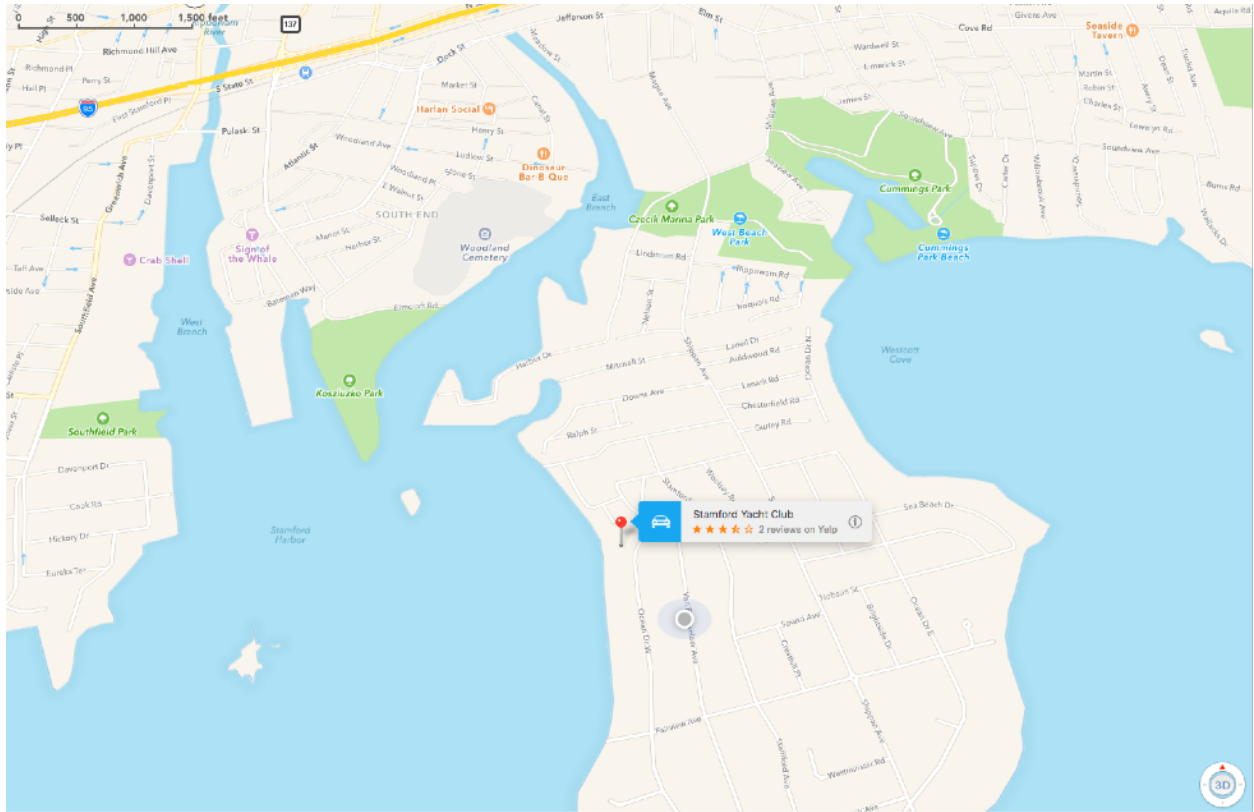

The Offshore Sail Training Squadron (OSTS) is one of the premier summer training programs for Midshipmen at the US Naval Academy. The Midshipmen receive training in ocean sailing, seamanship, navigation, leadership, and teamwork.

During the summer, OSTS sends the sail training craft, Navy 44s, crewed by 3/c Midshipmen and led by 2/c and 1/c Midshipmen, USNA Faculty, Staff, or Civilian volunteers. They sail to various ports up and down the east coast during the four-week long training blocks. Week 1 consists of midshipmen training at the Naval Academy. Weeks 2-4 consist of local area training and the offshore passage, port visit and return.
